COURSE DESCRIPTION:

A three credit course offering an integrated examination of dominant ideas in Western culture expressed in art, literature, music, philosophy, and religion. Covers the period from Trojan War through Roman era, emphasizing development and influence of classical ideas. This is a Gordon Rule course in which the student is required to demonstrate college-level writing skills through multiple writing assignments.

Minimum grade of C required if used to satisfy Gordon Rule requirement.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

1. To trace the historical and cultural developments that shaped the early world.
2. To analyze and evaluate the impact Greek and Roman society has had on Western culture.
3. To analyze and interpret how Greek and Roman history has influenced art and architecture.
4. To trace the steps of Greek and Roman history while examining its impact on world history and culture.
5. To examine the evolution of literature and theater in ancient Greece and Rome.
6. To examine and explore the rise of science and technology during the Greek and Roman time period.
7. To interpret the works of Greek and Roman philosophers.
8. To develop and provide opportunity for students to gain leaderships and collaborative work place skills through the practice of effective oral and written communication.
9. To encourage students through readings and research and in class-room discussion and debate to develop a deeper more significant understanding of Greek and Roman culture.
10. To encourage students to become aware and cognizant of global cultures by the examination of the past to gain a deeper understanding of current cultures and values.

Additional skills: Time management, note taking, and reading comprehension.

PROFESSIONALISM:

Students may find the Student Code of Conduct in the current Valencia Student Handbook. The primary responsibility for managing the classroom environment rests with the faculty. According to Valencia policy, activities which disrupt the classroom setting and which are in violation of the Student Code of Conduct are those which, with or without the intent to do so, are disruptive of the essence of the educational process. Unacceptable behaviors include side discussions, which are irrelevant to the subject matter, which distract, or inhibit the ability of other students to obtain the full benefit of the class. Use of cell phones, lap-tops (without prior permission), entering and leaving the classroom and leaving the classroom early without permission are violations of the Student Code of Conduct.

CLASS ATTENDANCE AND PREPARATION:

Students must attend the first week of class or will be dropped from the course as a no show.

Class attendance is essential to your success in this class. Furthermore, attendance is necessary for your preparation in class discussions that are a major part of this course—and therefore a major part of your grade. You can participate in class discussions and group projects only if you are present in class and prepared for class. Students are responsible for informing themselves of material covered in class during an absence. Reading preparation is also essential to your success in this class. Many test questions will be based upon the material in the readings and the text material that we will not routinely cover in class. Remember to use the lecture notes and the materials provided on Blackboard to help you prepare for class discussion and tests. Students with excessive class absences (i.e., 2 or more) will suffer a grade penalty. If you stop attending the class and do not withdraw, you will be given an F at the end of the term. If you intend to withdraw, please do so before the deadline of November 11 before 11:59 pm, to avoid adverse consequences. The following link will provide you with more detailed information regarding the withdrawal process:

<http://catalog.valenciacollege.edu/academicpoliciesprocedures/courseattempts/coursewithdrawal/>

MAKE-UP POLICY:

Make-up exams will be given in the Testing Center at the Winter Park Campus. If you are ill, late exams will need to be excused by the date of the exam or shortly thereafter. Please communicate via phone or email a.s.a.p. Unexcused late exams and late papers will be lowered several points for each class period overdue.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES:

Students with disabilities who qualify for academic accommodations must provide a notification from the Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD) and discuss specific needs with the instructor during the first two weeks of class. The OSD determines accommodations based on appropriate documentation of disabilities. The Winter Park Campus Advisor is located in Room 203. Phone: 407 582-6887.

ACADEMIC HONESTY:

All students are expected to act with honor and responsibility. Academic dishonesty in any form, including plagiarism, cheating, or any other unethical action, will not be tolerated. Instructors have tools to test for forgery and the alteration or misuse of documents; do not be tempted to claim another's work as your own. If you have any doubts or questions about how to use sources correctly, please set up a meeting time with me. All work submitted by students is expected to be the result of the student's own thoughts, ideas, research and self-expression. Sources must be appropriately acknowledged. Academic dishonesty may result in failure of the course, at the instructor's discretion.

DISCLAIMER STATEMENT:

As many factors may affect the development and progress of the class, the instructor reserves the right to alter the schedule as may be required to assure attainment of course objectives. Students are responsible for any changes announced in class; any changes in class will be posted to Blackboard. Having read and gone over this syllabus and by remaining enrolled in the course, you are entering into a contract to complete the assignments and respect classroom policies.

CAMPUS ALARMS:

Please make a note of the evacuation route from your classroom in case of an emergency. Interpret all audible alarms as valid and act accordingly.
